Amendments to the Madras Agricultural Loans (Relief of Indebtedness) Rules.

Fort St. George, December 15, 1955 (S.D. No. 2145, Revenue).

No. 112.

In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of section 4 of the Agricultural Loans Act, 1954 (XXI of 1954), as amended by Madras Act XVI of 1955, His Excellency the Governor of Madras is hereby pleased to make the following amendments to the Madras Agricultural Loans (Relief of Indebtedness) Rules, 1955, published with Revenue Department Notification No. P12, dated the 26th September 1955, at pages 1211-1217 of Part I of the Fort St. George Gazette, dated the 23rd September 1955, as subsequently amended:—

AMENDMENTS

In the said rules—

1. To sub-rule (1) of rule IV, the following proviso shall be added, namely—

"Provided that in cases where the applicant has executed a single mortgage to a single creditor and such creditor agrees to accept in full discharge of the mortgage such sum as the Loans Officer may determine to be payable with reference to the provisions of the Madras Agricultural Loans Act, 1955, the Loans Officer may scale down the debt with reference to the provisions of the said Act and attach a lien in the applicant for the discharge of the mortgage-money so as scaled down."

2. In rule V—

(a) in sub-rule (1)—

(i) in clause (i), the word 'and' occurring at the end shall be omitted, and

(ii) after clause (ii), the following word and clause shall be inserted, namely—

"and (iv) if the security offered consists in whole or in part of occupancy right in lands in an estate, unless he satisfies the Loans Officer that there are no arrears of rent due on the holding containing the lands offered as security"

(b) in sub-rule (2)—

(i) for the figures '1,000' occurring at the end of the first proviso, the figures '1,000' shall be substituted;

(ii) in sub-rule (1), for the figures '1,000', '500' and '400' wherever they occur, the figures '2,000', '1,200' and '800' shall respectively be substituted; and

(iii) in sub-rule (2), for the figures '2,500', '1,500' and '1,200' wherever they occur, the figures '3,000', '1,800' and '1,500' shall respectively be substituted

3. In rule VI, before the entry "Revenue (Madrasal) 1,500," the following entry shall be inserted, namely—

"Collection 3,000."

4. To sub-rule (2) of rule VIII, the following proviso shall be added, namely—

"Provided that in cases falling under the proviso to sub-rule (1) of rule IV the Loans Officer shall not return the application but shall, so far as may be practicable, deal with it in the manner laid down in sub-rule (3)."

5. In rule X,

(a) in sub-rule (1), the following proviso shall be added, namely—

"Provided that if the lands of which the applicant is the sole owner or in which he has the sole occupancy right constitute a sufficient security under sub-rule (1) he shall not be required to offer as security any lands of which he is a joint owner or in which he has a joint occupancy right" and

(b) sub-rule (3) shall be renumbered as sub-rule (4) and the following shall be inserted as sub-rule (3), namely—

"(3) Where a loan is granted wholly or partly on the security of occupancy right in lands in an estate, additional security should also be taken wherever possible, but in no case should property belonging to persons other than the borrower be accepted as such security."

6. For rule XI, the following rule shall be substituted, namely—

"XI. The rate of interest charged on loans under these rules shall be the rate notified by the Government from time to time in Fort St. George and the District Gazette and in force on the date on which the loan is sanctioned. The applicants, whose applications are pending disposal when the rate of interest is raised, shall be given an opportunity of agreeing to the altered rate or of withdrawing their applications"

7. In sub-rule (1) of rule XIII, clause (c) shall be deleted as clause (c) and the following shall be inserted as clause (d), namely—

"(d) that, where the security offered consists wholly or partly of occupancy right in lands in an estate, there are arrears of rent, due on the holding containing the lands offered as security at."

8. After rule XIV-A, the following rule shall be inserted, namely—

"XIV-B. (1) When a loan is granted under these rules wholly or partly on the security of occupancy right in lands in an estate the borrower shall every year certify the Tahsildar of the taluk in which the repayment of the loan instalments is made that there are no arrears of rent remaining due on the holding which contains the lands offered as security for that year by the production of receipts obtained from the landholder or in accordance with the provisions of the Madras Estate Land Act, 1908 . . .

Notes

(a) These columns apply to all business except business the proceeds in respect of which are otherwise paid outside India. If any question arises whether any proceeds are otherwise paid inside or outside India, the Government of India should decide the question and its decision shall be final.

(b) If any sum has been deducted from this item and entered on the assets side of the balance-sheet, the amount so deducted must be shown separately.

(c) All single premiums for annuities, whether immediate or deferred, must be included under this heading.

(d) Bonus Income, United Kingdom, Foreign and Dominion Government on Interest, Dividends and Share must be shown under this heading, but not income of income-tax received from the various authorities in respect of expenses of management. The separate heading on the other side of the account is for United Kingdom, Indian India, Foreign and Dominion taxes, other than those shown under this type.

(e) In the case of an insurer having his principal place of business outside British India, the expenses of management for the head business must not be split up into the several sub-heads, if they are not so split up in his own country.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to amend the Insurance Act of 1908 in respect of (a) a comparatively number of matters as stated in which amendment is necessary in order to remove flaws and administrative difficulties which have come to light during the eighteen months for which the Act has been in operation, and (b) some other matters in respect of which further provision is considered desirable.

7 items of the new proposed amendments have already been dealt with in previous Amending Bills. The remainder are now included in this comprehensive Bill.

3 The principal amendments included in this Bill provide for (a) grant of permission to the public to deposit or get copies or payment of a fee of documents filed by insurers, (b) imposing on those types of business which, though classed as "Marine Insurance Companies" are susceptible to some degree of estimated valuation, several requirements as regards as may be or come to which Life Insurance business is already subject, (c) extension of the time for the submission of audited returns under section 15 to all cases to 3 months, (d) extension of a time limit of 3 months within which appeals to Court must be made against the orders of the Superintendent of Insurance, (e) extension of the power to make a regulation under section 22 to all sub-clauses of Insurance, (f) removal of the expenses of investigation ordered under section 23 as arrears of land-revenue, (g) allowing the age of the insured to be proved at any time after the issue of a policy, (h) classification of section 45 relating to the election of policyholders' directors, (i) protection of the interests of the policyholders concerned when an insurer or a president jointly moves to carry on Insurance business on the dividing principle, (j) amendment of the provisions applicable to insurers and those applicable to president sections, (k) extension of the grounds of a guaranteed premium value to whole-life policies also, (l) removal of a legal difficulty which prevents defining which of the particular circumstances of an insurer are to be considered as restricted in British India or India, as the case may be, (m) extension of the power of granting suspended certificates under section 116 to president sections also, (n) an amendment of section 1 as to allow the Insurers' Board to change these annual ornaments on the side of, or (insertion) (2), sections which they are required to sell or accept under this section to the request of an insurer.

4 The Bill also provides for an annual fee for renewal of registration of insurers and president sections and for an increase of the fee charged for special licences. These provisions are necessary in order to increase the obligations under the Act so as to cover the present direct cost of administration.

5 In addition to the above points, several details of a technical nature are also dealt with.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 3.—The amendment in sub-clause (c) relates to an insurer while the amendment in sub-clause (d) substitutes a more apt expression.

Clause 4.—Sub-clause (b) removes doubts about the validity of policyholders' elected into office the expiry of the period of three months mentioned in section 3 (1) by certain insurers who failed to obtain a certificate of constitution even by the 22nd May 1935. The object is to ensure that the policyholders do not suffer while the insurers are in default with, where necessary, under sub-clauses (1)(b) and (1)(c) of section 3. Sub-clause (a) increases the registration fee for each class of insurers to Rs. 200 for new insurers, while sub-clauses (c), (d) and (e) apply provisions covering the consequences of failure to comply regulations, including provisions for revival of registration in some cases and for the winding up of the insurers in others.

Clause 5.—The insertion of the new section provides for the annual registration of insurers as provided in a provision for an 11th year, but not exceeding Rs. 1,000 for each class of insurers, and also for life applications for renewal.

Clause 6.—Sub-clause (a) substitutes a more apt expression and sub-clause (b) removes doubts as to what is a group policy.

Clause 2 substitutes a more apt expression.

Clause 3.—The addition makes clear that the Board of Directors is entitled to charge the stated revenues on purchase and sale of securities such as the subject of section.

Clause 4.—The amendment in sub-clause (a) enables the Board of Directors to provide for the keeping of a separate account of each sub-division of investments (insurance policies) as are capable of actual valuation, except where the Superintendent of Insurance considers the income is the profit for that investment. Sub-clauses (b) and (c) merely reword existing provisions.

Clause 5.—The amendments in sub-clause (a) are consequential to sub-clause (b) of clause (4). Sub-clause (b) requires an accounting.

Clause 6.—The addition provides for the actual valuation of those sub-divisions of investments (insurance policies) which are susceptible of such valuation and also for instances where the Board is too small to justify such a requirement.

Clause 10.—The amendments extend the time for sub-clause of valuation returns by members.

Clause 16.—Sub-clause (b) supplies a drafting omission. Sub-clauses (c) and (d) extend the provision of section 24 to the sub-clause of investments (insurance policies) which provision is made by the amendments proposed in section 24 (1) by sub-clause (a) of clause (4) and also supply some drafting omissions.

Clause 17.—The insertion renders as voiding doubt whether fines levied under the Indian Companies Act, 1884, are payable when advantage is taken of the provisions of section 17 of the Insurance Act.

Clause 18.—The addition provides a period of limitation of 3 months for an application to Court against an order of the Superintendent of Insurance.

Clause 19.—The insertion extends the powers of the Superintendent of Insurance to all sub-clauses of section.

Clause 20.—The section referred to deals with the publication of accounts of the status of company and previous sections. The latter are dealt with in a separate part of the Act, and the section is accordingly moved here and is re-numbered in Part V in a similar form.

Clause 21.—The addition makes it clear that the documents have also to be collected and entered in the same manner in the register.

Clause 22.—The amendments are designed to relieve insurers from the anxiety of forwarding the desired particulars necessary to enable them to have complied with section 27 within the time provided that they supply accurate particulars of assets held invested by them under their policies and provide the Superintendent of Insurance to call for the desired particulars from a person whenever necessary.

Clause 23.—The addition makes it clear that a director is not relieved from taking a loan so long as he pays within the required time, notwithstanding section 80D of the Indian Companies Act.

Clause 24.—The amendment in sub-clause (a) enables an insurer or an agency for an insurer given under section 22 to be appointed alternatively or simultaneously or one after the other in any order. The addition in sub-clause (b) provides a period of limitation for an application to Court against the action of the Superintendent of Insurance. The amendment in sub-clause (c) removes drafting errors.

Clause 25.—The amendments provide for the recovery of all expenses incurred in taking action under section 25 or if they were bad-debts and give such expenses priority over all other debts of the insurer.

Clause 22.—The amendment to sub-clause (c) provides that the Central Government shall remove a note of the documents on which a transfer or assignment is based. The insertion in sub-clause (d) restricts a drafting revision.

Clause 23.—The addition is designed to ensure that the disposal of the deposits of unassigning insurers on an assignment or of the deposit of a transferor in a transfer shall be made in accordance with the interests of the policy-holder concerned.

Clause 24.—The amendments in sub-clause (c), (d) and (e) are designed to ensure that existing provisions of section 17 to cover the case of transfer of insurance business to a person who is not an insurer. The amendment in sub-clause (c) provides that the note of the documents on which the assignment or transfer is based, shall be sent to the Central Government in cases not covered by clause 27. The amendment in sub-clause (d) specifies in greater detail the documents required.

Clause 25.—The amendments remove an ambiguity.

Clause 26.—The revision made by sub-clause (a) preserves a choice as to the parties to be assigned to the original insured. The addition in sub-clause (b) removes a practical difficulty arising when a policy is assigned to the insurer in consideration of a loan granted by him while the surrender value.

Clause 27.—The first amendment in sub-clause (a) and the amendment in sub-clause (b) clarify drafting issues while the second amendment in sub-clause (a) clarifies the position of a loan for insurance agent meeting normal expenses on a policy on his own life.

Clause 28.—The amendments in sub-clause (a) and (b) provide for inserting the device for in some cases and for a penalty not exceeding one rupee if interest is applied for late. The amendment in sub-clause (c) extends the depositing officer, provide for the removal of the depositification after a certain time and correct a drafting error. The addition in sub-clause (d) provides for case of a duplicate of the original invoice is lost, destroyed or mutilated.

Clause 29 revises drafting facts.

Clause 30 revises a drafting flaw.

Clause 31.—The amendments in sub-clause (a) provide for further that in insurance against fraudulent suppression of material facts. The addition in sub-clause (b) provides for adjustment of the terms of a policy when no event is set in default and enables age to be proved at age 200 after issue of a policy.

Clause 32.—The amendment removes the disadvantage resulting from the fact that the provisions of the section are mandatory.

Clause 33.—The amendment in sub-clause (a) makes it clear that a company cannot interfere with the manner provided for the holding of policy holder elections. The first insertion in sub-clause (b) enables all policyholders entitled to vote to stand for election to exercise their rights and prevents any 'reserving' of the list of voters or candidates, while the second insertion provides for suitable arrangements to resolve cases which are found to pose too great a practical difficulty.

Clause 34.—The substitution specifies more clearly than at present the circumstances under which deposits and between may be paid and the circumstances under which and the bank within which deposits may be received.

Clause 35.—The addition provides for dispensing with notice by 15 January in a case where it is obviously unnecessary.

Clause 35.—The addition provides for suitable wording of all notices, notices in the drawing schedule, with such notices become material after 1st July 1914, except in cases where the depositors of interests require the notices for winding up already made.

Clause 37.—The amendment in sub-clause (c) supplies a drafting gap. The amendment in sub-clause (d) supplies an omission.

Clause 38.—The amendment in sub-clause (b) brings the definition of "business" in the drawing principle in respect of provision notices into line with the definition of the same business in respect of notices. The addition in sub-clause (c) provides in the case of pending notices for suitable wording of notices business up the drawing principle on the point there in cases laid down in the case of notices by clause 36.

Clause 39.—The first amendment in sub-clause (a) supplies an omission which the second amendment supplies the portion regarding provision notices established under British India, and the third amendment provides for a registration fee of £50 (up to the previous notice). The first amendment in sub-clause (a) supplies the statement which the second amendment provides for the notification of registration without formal notice to the society or its subscribers in the case of a certain summary case. Sub-clause (d) states detailed provision for the maintenance of a certificate of registration, including provision for the renewal of registration in some cases.

Clause 40.—The first section inserted by this clause provides for annual renewal of registration of provision notices on the same form as clause 4 does for notices. The second section inserted by this clause requires full particulars as to address, directors, persons in charge, etc., as is supplied by provision notices already registered and provides for maintaining a correct record of such particulars.

Clause 41.—The amendment eliminates a lacuna.

Clause 42.—The amendment in sub-clause (a) eliminates a lacuna while the insertion in sub-clause (c) supplies an omission.

Clause 43.—The amendment makes it clear that a "provision society" whether established in British India or outside British India, may have a principal office in British India.

Clause 44.—The amendment in sub-clause (a) is a consequence of the amendment in clause 43. The amendment in sub-clause (c) enables the issue of registers to be provided in the case of great length and with sufficient flexibility to suit the needs of different types of provision societies. Sub-clause (d) is consequential.

Clause 45.—The first amendment in sub-clause (a) provides for the sub-clause to be printed here of certain returns of provision societies while the second amendment gives the societies a fixed amount of time for submission of their returns. The insertion and the addition in sub-clause (c) bring the provisions applicable to the returns of provision societies into line with those applicable to the returns of notices.

Clause 46.—The amendment in sub-clause (a) and (b) removes deficiencies. The amendment in sub-clause (c) fills a drafting hole which several errors on notices in operation on 1st July 1914 must be corrected. The amendment in sub-clause (d) changes the position of policyholders under a provision scheme and sub-clause (e) sub-clause more apt words.

Clause 47.—Sub-clause (a) removes ambiguities about the provisions that must be made by provision societies and also provides that such rules in respect may be taken into account in it was wanted. The addition in sub-clause (b) is explained under clause 18.

Clause 22—The first amendment in sub-clause (c) adds the necessary reference to the fact of a provision merely substituted within British India. The second amendment in sub-clause (c) and the amendments in sub-clauses (b) and (d) bring the provisions applicable to corporations into the sphere of provident societies in line with similar provisions applicable to societies already explained under clause 20.

Clause 23—Sub-clause (c) supplies an omission and the amendment in sub-clause (d) is consequential.

Clause 24—The addition in sub-clause (b) serves the Superintendent of Insurance thus automatically ensuring expenses out of provident societies in the liquidation of provident societies. Sub-clause (d) remains in abeyance.

Clause 25 is consequential on clause 22.

Clause 26 provides that the costs of liquidation of a provident society shall bear priority over other debts when they are held to be payable out of the assets of the society.

Clause 27—Sub-clause (a) supplies varied meanings which have given rise to practical difficulties and sub-clause (b) extends the meaning previously relating to the deposit of deposits held immediately prior to 1st July 1935 to 'Mutual' and 'Co-operative' societies, also.

Clause 28 serves 'mutual' societies the duty and expense of sending copies of accounts to all their members in a matter of course but gives every member the right to receive a copy of the accounts on application.

Clause 29 supplies some varied meanings and substitutes a more apt expression.

Clause 30—Sub-clauses (a) and (b) rectify verbal defects and sub-clause (c) rectifies provisions under it those applicable to societies applicable to provident societies also.

Clause 31 makes the existing provisions of section 106 referring to insurance applicable to provident societies also.

Clause 32 supplies an application to clause under section 106 to be made also by the Superintendent of Insurance, and rectifies the section applicable to provident societies as well as to insurance.

Clause 33 makes the existing provisions of section 107 referring to insurance applicable to provident societies also.

Clause 34—Sub-clause (a) provides for an appeal against a refusal by the Superintendent of Insurance to issue registration of an account and sub-clause (b) provides a period of limitation of 3 months for appeals under section 120.

Clause 35—Sub-clauses (a) inserts and defines sub-sections (2) and (3) of section 134, at the same time widening the existing rights of a guaranteed account; sub-clause (b) inserts of withdrawable sub-clause also. It is also made clear that the provisions apply to bodies of persons issued by provident societies and not merely those issued by insurers. Provision is made for the guaranteed withdrawer rules to be shown on the policy in the prescribed manner. Sub-clause (c) is merely consequential.

Clause 36—The amendment in sub-clause (a) removes an obscurity of wording which had caused some practical difficulty. Sub-clause (b) supplies an omission.

Clause 37 makes section 136 applicable also to provident societies.

Clause 38—The new section inserted is consequential on clause 16. Its substance under section 24 is clearer form and provides that the relevant section under section 20 need not be published.

Clause 39 extends the provisions of section 137 to provident societies.

Clause 40 enables the Superintendent of Insurance when granting exemption under section 140 to impose conditions or to make suitable modifications of the provisions still left operative.

Clause 27—The existing section 39 being redundant when read with section 5 (1) (i) is repealed and in its place a new provision is inserted providing that the policy may suspend or return capital of insurance filed under section 5 (2) (i).

Clause 28 amends the Indian Limitation Act to provide that the period of limitation shall run in the case of a life policy from the date of death of the life insured instead of from the date when proof of such death is given. The policies effected are no longer described as those under which the sum insured is paid immediately after proof of the death.

Clause 29—Sub-clause (a) and (c) are consequential on sub-clause (d) of clause 5. Sub-clause (b) negates an amendment.

Clause 30—Sub-clause (a) and (c) are consequential on sub-clause (d) of clause 5. In sub-clause (b) the first item amends to rectify verbal defects while the last one makes the explanation of the terms "Business policy, India" and "Business act of India" applicable in the case of all insurers.

Clause 31.—The first amendment in sub-clause (a) and the amendments in sub-clause (c) and (d) remove verbal defects and the second amendment in sub-clause (d) inserts a requirement which is unnecessary in connection with existing policies. Sub-clause (d) substitutes a new Form D for the existing Form G in the Fourth Schedule to the Act making it consistent with Form D which is consistent already with the new legislation. Sub-clause (e) makes clear how Form J is to be prepared.
